

ABOUT THE CULTURAL COUNCIL

The Palm Beach County Cultural Council is a private non-profit corporation that serves as the official agency for arts and cultural development in Palm Beach County. The Council supports and promotes individual artists and cultural organizations in our community by:

- Enhancing the success of cultural organizations and encouraging the growth of individual artists through grants, technical assistance and professional development workshops
- Advocating for the arts and arts education funding at the county, state and national level
- Engaging Council members and the general public in programs and events that inspire greater appreciation for Palm Beach County's arts and cultural community
- Developing initiatives and building alliances that strengthen and support arts and cultural education for school-age children
- Building awareness of local cultural organizations and artists through the Council's website, Cultural Calendar and award-winning art&culture magazine
